

Catholics in today's world?

On one side of us – secularism.
On the other side – many drifting to evangelical churches.

What can Catholics do about it?

Amazing Faith: Living and Sharing the Good News Today (A Parish Agenda for Today)

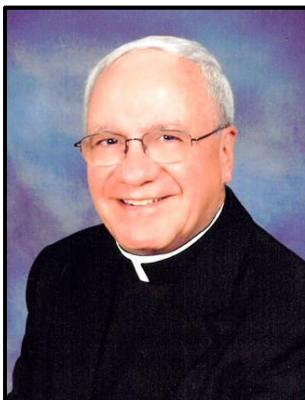

7:00pm on Friday January 27, 2012

in St. Stephen Church, Valrico FL

Fr. Frank DeSiano, a Paulist Priest, will give an overview of what Catholic parishes can do to address the needs of modern Americans in their search for faith. This presentation is for clergy, parish staff, evangelization teams, and all interested Catholics.

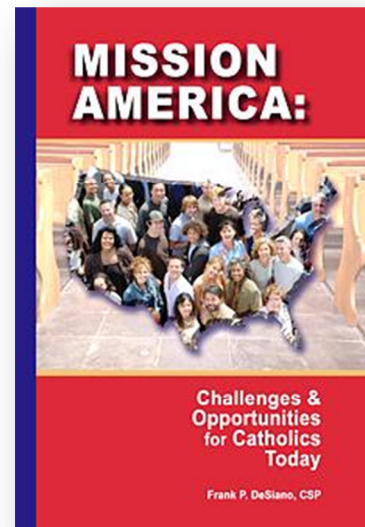

Father DeSiano will cover how various trends in today's world impact the people you know who are not attending Mass. He'll also explain how it affects personal and parish evangelization efforts to active and inactive Catholics, strategies of welcome, and inviting people to OCIA.

A noted speaker, presenter, author, and evangelizer, Fr. DeSiano returns to St. Stephen to offer key ideas from his new book, Mission America: Challenges and Opportunities for Catholics Today. This "big picture" presentation will help you understand the issues we face as a Church and how to begin responding to them.

A free-will offering will be received for the mission of the Paulist Fathers.

Frank DeSiano www.fpdetano.com is a Paulist Father www.paulist.org, author of many books, past president of the Paulists, president of Paulist Evangelization Ministries (formerly known as PNCEA), and past director of the Paulist Associates Program www.paulist.org/associates. He was a leader in the process of writing Go and Make Disciples, the Bishops' Plan and Strategy for Evangelization in the U.S.
